July 2021

An aerial photograph of a paved path winding through a field of vibrant pink flowers, likely cherry blossoms. The path is light-colored and curves from the top left towards the bottom right. The flowers are in full bloom, creating a dense carpet of pink. The background shows more of the field and some greenery.

Practicalities

- Two modes for joining
  - Can join as party – part of proceedings
    - Webcam on
    - EPO test call important
  - Can join as member of public
    - Request invitation by email
    - “[insert name]” on screen
    - Not visible (usually)

3. If so requested by the chairperson, the member of the public must temporarily switch on their camera to allow the videoconference participants to ascertain their identity just as if they were taking part in person on the premises of the EPO.

- Practicalities
- The Boards of Appeal
- ViCo vs in-person
- Looking forward, and some experiences

Boards of Appeal – very different!

- Opposition Division pilot does not apply: in-person hearings have continued throughout most of the pandemic
- Boards have had wide discretion to hold hearings by ViCo or in-person, as they wish
  - Our experience so far: different Boards (subject areas) and different members within Boards have different preferences.
  - Frustratingly unpredictable
- New Rules of Procedure of Boards of Appeal (Art 15a)
  - Boards can hold hearings by ViCo upon request by a party, or of their own motion, without the consent of all parties
  - Permit hybrid hearings – these take place at EPO, but a party, or a representative, or an accompanying person within a party, can attend by ViCo
  - We don't yet know how the Boards will apply the new rules

ViCo

- Attendees
  - Any location
  - No limit on numbers
  - Technical experts on stand-by
  - Degree of anonymity
- Presentation
  - screen space may be an issue for large hearings
  - Screen sharing
    - YouTube evidence
  - “I am not a cat”

Comparison in terms of your opposition case.

Not comparison of public health issues, environmental issues...

Comparison based on the reality now. ViCo still relatively new, and in-person BoA OPs are socially distanced.

Not comparison with pre-COVID situation

In-person (currently only BoA)

- Attendees
  - Give notice if request >2 people accompanying
  - Need to get there!
- Presentation
  - Usually everyone visible all the time to everyone else - but only usually
  - “Human connection”
    - But screens, distancing
    - Highly debatable

ViCo

logistics

In-person

other side not attending 1 or 2 opponents
few documents
extensive discussion within team (scientists)

interpretation

several opponents
100's of documents

predictability of outcome

one of a series of related cases very (un) favourable preliminary opinion single issue case

preliminary opinion finely balanced “needs to be discussed”

finality of outcome

Opposition Division
defending patent with (stronger) divisional

Board of Appeal

certainty

certainty of date wanted for preparation + planning early decision wanted e.g. to inform investment

happy for decision to be delayed

  - Pilot project for Opposition Division ViCo OPs
- Practicalities
- The Boards of Appeal
- In-person vs ViCo
- Looking forward, and some experiences

Looking forward

- The EPO has put itself under pressure to hear opposition cases quickly, with as stated target of 15 months from expiry of opposition period to OPs
- Was (was!) on track to meet this target soon

Time from expiry of opposition period to oral proceedings (all oppositions, including multi-opponent cases; 2009-2018)

Looking forward

- EPO Progress Report shows that much of this progress is being undone

- Increasing the number of opposition hearings to 360 per month for 2021 will deal with the backlog created during the pandemic by 2022

Looking forward

- Easier to involve scientists in Examining Division hearings
- EPO website has lots of helpful information
  - Frequently Asked Questions (FAQs) page
  - EPO e-course - includes videos of mock OPs
  - Technical guidelines for system requirements (internet bandwidth, camera)
- Watch a ViCo hearing as a member of the public
  - EPO calendar
  - Time difference might be awkward...
- Send us any questions

ViCo vs in-person based on our collective experience so far

- ViCo hearings seem to take longer – lots of checking, breaks
  - More tiring in some ways, less in others
  - More adjournments? Request extra day if case is large / complex?
- People behave differently in virtual setting compared with IRL
  - Be aware of this if you are on-screen (member of party) even if not presenting
  - Especially if you have forgotten to mute...
- Communication between dispersed team members
  - Bigger teams may be appropriate
  - Team members off-screen (member of public) may be valuable
- General agreement: once it gets going, ViCo feels like an in-person EPO hearing
